Join LearnSkin for the 5th Annual Integrative Dermatology Symposium (IDS), August 20-22, 2026, in Palm Springs, California. IDS blends conventional and integrative dermatology, covering the latest in biologics, JAK inhibitors, non-steroidal topicals, the gut-skin microbiome, and personalized care for diverse skin types. Earn 14 CME credits in person, plus 11 more online, through expert-led sessions, panels, and workshops.

This event is also available on the Vivitro Mobile App: Download Link. You can interact with others on your phone in the app more conveniently wherever you go.

After registration, you'll be able to access the event through the Whova app or web portal, where you can view the agenda, connect with other attendees, and participate in event activities.

Step 4: Maximize Your Virtual Experience

1. Use the latest version of Google Chrome as your web browser when logging into the event.
2. Turn off VPNs/firewalls that may block access.
3. Download the mobile app (Android | iOS) to catch the event on the go.
4. Attend sessions live to join the Q&A (not included in post-event recordings).
5. Presentations and handouts will be available on LearnSkin.com for one year after the event.
